Traffic is still restricted on U.S. 27 from 7 miles south of South Bay south for 20 miles to the Palm Beach-Broward County line, according to the Florida Department of Transportation. One lane remains open in each direction through the construction zone. The road is being widened from two lanes to a four-lane divided road at a cost of $35.2 million.

The project is due to be complete by June 1995.

Also, State Road 700 (U.S. 98) between State Road 80 and Canal Point is closed to all traffic 9 miles southeast of Canal Point and 6 miles northwest of State Road 80 at a fixed bridge. The road is expected to re-open by mid-August.

S.O. may take over Paohokee Police

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

The City of Paohokee is presently working on its budget and with an approximate $7 million budget for next year, the Paohokee City Commission is looking for ways of trimming the budget. They have discussed several options on ways to save dollars and one of those options is to possibly transfer police protection to the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department. However, Paohokee City Manager Ken Schenck said nothing is definite yet.

According to Mr. Schenck, the commission has been looking at the budget. The budget is tight. It's not getting any better, it's getting worse." In a way to save money, he said the commission's first option is to transfer the police department and the city's dispatch department.

Mr. Schenck said he has been in contact with the sheriff's department.

Paohokee Mayor Ramon Horta said if the sheriff's department is willing to take over the police department, he will stipulate that they re-hire the present employees provided they pass the sheriff's department exam.

The mayor said he would like to see the police protection for the city remain within the local police department because the present citizens are familiar with the town. Although he would like to see the protection remain local, the mayor said the budget is in trouble.

The mayor said he hopes to hear something from the sheriff's department regarding the transfer by the end of the month.

Mayor Horta said he is not satisfied with the performance of the police department. He said they are doing a great job. He also said it's important for any town to have its own police department. According to the mayor, the venture is only being done in anticipation of saving the city money. This is being done only because of budget restraints," the mayor said.

According to the mayor, if the transfer is approved, it would save the city $600,000.

The mayor said the second option the commission has been looking at is to disband the dispatch department. He said if the city does this, it would save $150,000.

Hurston Museum planning grand opening

The grand opening for the Zora Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum is planned for Sept. 9.

The museum's permanent facility, a 5,700 square foot building donated by the School Board of Palm Beach County, was relocated to Glades Pioneer Park on Jan. 18.

Executive Director and founder Carthessa Konchellah said the event will kick off with a sponsors' luncheon

Sept. 9, and a gala concert.

A prayer breakfast will be held Sept. 11 and a reception for educators on Sept. 18. A second gala concert is planned for Sept. 16 and the ribbon cutting ceremony is set for Sept. 17.

The museum is Palm Beach

County's first operational Black History Museum.

Founded in 1990, the Hurston Museum's annual storytelling conference and festival, Mucksteppers' Reunion, is included on the State of Florida's Black Heritage Trail as a significant cultural event.

The museum's Africamp program, a research and publishing program for 10-15 year-olds, has been cited as an outstanding learning project in the southeastern United States.

The museum's principal collection is the Saralee Doll, the nation's first anthropologically-correct black doll, produced in 1950.

which prompted her visit to the center.

The most recent, he said, is that the board, and specifically Mr. Stein, does not listen or respect the tenant's wishes.

Mr. Peterson said his board has asked that new housing authority board members be appointed who more closely represent the tenants.

Mr. Stein said he does not recognize the validity of the Resident's Council because he has been shown no proof that they actually represent the majority of the tenants living in Okeechobee and Osceola Housing Authority homes. He said he can not get specifics on how many tenants are members of the Resident's Council or how many attend monthly meetings.

Two seats on the seven-member housing authority board would be up for reappointment this month. At the Aug. 8, Belle Glade City Commissision meeting, Mayor Steve Weeks reappointed George Burch and James Smith, Jr. The Resident's Council had asked Mayor Weeks to appoint Richard Ramsey, principal of Lake Shore Middle School, to the board in place of Mr. Smith.

Mr. Peterson went before the commission after the appointments were made and expressed his disappointment. "Now I have to go back and tell the tenants we have another year of the same thing," he said. "There is no avenue of talk with the board."

Mr. Peterson said the board was not looking out for the welfare of the tenants in the two projects and they had "no respect for the humans who live out there."

Mayor Weeks, in a letter to Mr. Peterson dated Aug. 8, said he reappointed Mr. Smith because he felt Mr. Smith was responsive to the tenant's needs.

...Mr. Smith, who is a retired farmer and past resident of one of the centers, has a unique insight to the problems of the tenants," said Mr. Weeks in his letter. "He has proven to be responsive to the needs of the residents and has a desire to continue serving these residents."

He also told Mr. Peterson that he spoke with Mr. Ramsey and he said he did not wish to replace Mr. Smith if it was Mr. Smith's desire to continue to serve.

The Resident's Council has enlisted the help of Florida Rural Legal Services to address their complaints. They helped the council with paperwork to complete an application for 501 (C) 3 tax exemption.

They also submitted their complaints to the Department of Justice, Community Relations Department and met with Farmers Home Administration District Director, Gregory Carruthers.

Some of the concessions the Resident's Council want include access to a room in the housing authority offices to conduct council meetings.

They also want to start a Crime Watch program, summer youth recreation program and a clean-up campaign. They also want the Okeechobee Center to be annexed into the city boundaries so tenants can vote-in city elections.

Mr. Stein said he felt the clean-up campaign and Crime

"Tire Amnesty Days" offered by Solid Waste Authority

Residents of the Glades may dispose of old automobile tires free during "Tire Amnesty Days," Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 27 and 28, from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sponsored by the Solid Waste Authority of Palm Beach County (SWA), "Tire Amnesty Days" provides six convenient tire drop-off locations throughout the county. In Belle Glade, tires can be dropped off at the SWA transfer station, 2200 West Canal Street, South, or, the city will pick up the tires if residents will call 996-5865 during the same time frame, according to Gene Simmons, director of public services.

This residential used tire collection program will provide Palm Beach County residents with the opportunity for free disposal of up to eight scrap automobile and/or passenger size truck tires, with or without rims.

However, residents of Belle Glade, Paohokee, and South Bay may dispose of oversized truck tires at no additional cost.

"Tire Amnesty Days" participants should be prepared to provide proof of residency such as a Florida driver's license and a zip code. This free offer is not available to commercial entities.

Beware of callers who pose as police officers

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

A fool and his money are soon parted, but at least two local senior citizens were not fooled last week.

Lieutenant Albert Dowdell, III, with the Belle Glade Police Department, said they have received two complaints from senior citizens in reference to suspicious telephone calls.

The male caller identifies himself as a sergeant from the Belle Glade Police Department. He tells them he is conducting a forgery investigation and then attempts to gain information from them about their bank accounts and other personal information.

How many times have you been contacted by a telemarketer who wants to do business with you over the phone? Can you distinguish between a legitimate offer and the unscrupulous deal?

If you can't, it could cost you dearly.

You should always ask what company the caller represents, the firm's address, how you were chosen for an award or why you are being asked to help, and never give out confidential banking information over the phone.

Giving the caller your account number can allow them to withdraw money from your account.

Scientist predicts fewer hurricanes in 1994

By Mike Lyons

It is only a forecast, it doesn't mean it's going to happen, but it sure sounds good. This week, Dr. William Gray issued a new forecast for the remainder of the 1994 hurricane season.

Dr. Gray is the Colorado State University scientist who annually predicts the number of tropical storms and hurricanes in the Atlantic Ocean, the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico.

Predictions are easy, accurate predictions are something else. Except for Bill Gray. Over the years, Dr. Gray's annual hurricane forecast has become a very accurate barometer of what to expect in the tropics. In other words, when Bill Gray speaks, the meteorological community listens.

This week, Dr. Gray was talking about fewer hurricanes and tropical storms. In his latest forecast, he thinks there will be four hurricanes and six tropical storms in the remaining months of the hurricane season.

That is down from his earlier forecast in June and less than the seasonal average. In a typical summer, we can expect six hurricanes and 10 tropical storms to form in the Atlantic, the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Dr. Gray is sticking with his prediction of one major hurricane. That's a storm with sustained winds of at least 111 mph. Overall, however, he thinks the storms will be weaker and more infrequent.

"We've had very high pressure readings in the Atlantic and Caribbean," he said. "It's been bone dry in Africa and the upper level winds from 68,000 to 75,000 will be blowing in an easterly direction." Combine all of these factors and according to Dr. Gray, you get fewer hurricanes.

In addition, something called the El Nino, which has worked to suppress hurricane activity the past three seasons, will probably be a neutral factor this year. The El Nino is a key component in Dr. Gray's forecast.

If the El Nino is moderate or strong, the number of tropical systems in the Atlantic basin generally decreases. Last year, the El Nino continued to be strong for the third consecutive year. The El Nino is the name for an unusual phenomenon that occurs in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of South America. For some reason (we're still not sure why) the water in this area gets very, very warm. This hot spot in the ocean creates a wind pattern that flows across the Atlantic decreasing tropical storm activity.

The El Nino is surprising all of the experts out there in that it remained warmer than normal for three consecutive years," Dr. Gray said. "It hasn't done anything like this for more than 50 years."

Dr. Gray believes the El Nino will have little effect on hurricane activity this year. The other factors, however, should keep hurricane activity down. Those other factors include the speed of upper level winds, rainfall in West Africa and pressure readings in the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea.

While Dr. Gray does predict the number of tropical systems each year, he doesn't say where those storms will develop or, more importantly, where they will end up. So, even though he thinks we'll see fewer storms this season, we should still be on guard. It only takes one storm hitting our area for it to be a very active hurricane season.

By the way, the last time we had a quiet hurricane season was two years ago. Only four hurricanes developed in 1992, but one of them was named Andrew.

Hands-on science... Science teachers (L-R) Mike Warner, Donald Anthony Buddle and Sherry Little of Lake Shore Middle School try out new methods of hands-on science education being advocated by the University of Alabama's program, Integrated Science. Begun in 1991, Integrated Science involves replacing a facts and figures "lecture" approach to teaching science with a student-centered integrated approach. Sixth, seventh, and eighth grade classes will be taught this year. The first 20 to 30 minutes of the class period are spent viewing a broadcast, via satellite, from USA and the last portion of class is taught by the in-room teacher. More than 600 science teachers from around the country and Canada will be on the USA campus over the summer to learn curriculum and experiments for the upcoming year. Assisting these teachers is Dr. Larry Rainey (far right), seventh grade Integrated Science Instructor.

Bank of Belle Glade in Winner's Circle

Bank of Belle Glade has received a 1994 Winner's Circle Award for outstanding financial performance, according to Vernon Smith, president of the Community Bankers of Florida.

The award is the highest honor a bank may receive from CBF, which represents Florida's 3,900 independent, locally-owned banks.

Bank of Belle Glade will be honored at CBF's Annual Convention Sept. 9, in Orlando. CBF later in the month will announce a 1994 Banker of the Year, who represents one of the Winner's Circle banks. The Banker of the Year will be chosen for outstanding community service. W. Wayne Mikell, president of the Bank of Belle Glade, won this honor in 1991.

U.S. Sugar named Company of the Month

The U.S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston, has been named Company of the Month for August by the Palm Beach Blood Bank.

"The company really goes beyond the call of duty in supporting the community's need for blood," says Patty Palmer, account manager in the Blood Bank's donor recruitment office.

Every time we have a blood drive at U.S. Sugar, the employees are lined up and waiting when our bloodmobile drives up," she said. "The need for blood never ends and it is a great feeling to see that kind of response."

According to Ms. Palmer, a blood drive at U.S. Sugar routinely generates more than 200 donations. That reflects a strong commitment by both employees and management, and we are truly thankful for their support," she said.

"We are also grateful to Gail Llorente, RN, blood drive chairperson for all of U.S. Sugar and its subsidiary companies, whose organizational skills and dedication have helped to make each drive such a great success."

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the head and neck, such as from a violent impact, a blow to the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Wake up call

"Wake up citizens of Pahokee. Well, have you heard the latest? Our great city commissioners are now trying to get rid of our local Pahokee Police Department because they say they can not afford them anymore and they are short of money in the budget to pay them."

Well, good citizens, check this out. They need to start looking at these other high-payed officials in the city.

Citizens, we need to get out and support our Pahokee Police Department. If it's turned over to the county, then we'll never ever have them again and you know how the coast feels about Western Palm Beach County. They care nothing about us.

We need to look at this, citizens of Pahokee. Especially when it comes back to May when it's election time and all these false promises are given.

I beg you, please show up at our next city council meeting in support of our police department. They are a bunch of great guys. I know several of them personally and they are very concerned about their future with the City of Pahokee. They have families also. Please, citizens, I beg you, please show up and voice your opinion at the next city council meeting.

Thank you. A very concerned citizen of Pahokee."

Housing

"I'm calling about places to rent in Belle Glade. There's absolutely nowhere to rent that's decent. Is there anybody who can help?"

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited while hopefully retaining the caller's message."

Pets

"Why do so many people dislike, or worse yet, fear cats and dogs?"

Are those people so insecure or incompetent that they can't appreciate the pleasure of having a four-legged friend with trusting love?

With the burglaries around here, I want a Siberian Tiger, rather than a gun."

Break-ins

"The rumor going around Belle Glade is that there's been over 200 break-ins in vehicles in the last month."

If that's so, why hasn't there been anything in the paper about all these break-ins? I don't know how many there have been, but there have been at least 10 in the neighborhood I live in."

Chief Michael Miller responds: "Their numbers are incorrect. There have been 160 auto break-ins from May 1 to Aug. 10, 1994. We have made 24 arrests. An officer has been specifically assigned to this problem and we have increased patrols in the targeted areas where many of the break-ins occurred."

Unite

"Do the citizens have any say-so? Well, it looks like the City of Pahokee is run by three commissioners and the city manager. One commissioner made the statement that the fate of the city police department was the commissioners decision and not the citizens. The city commission wants to turn the police department's dispatching over to the county."

This is the beginning of the end. Citizens, unite! Stand up to city hall! Let your voice be heard."

Editor's note: A caller asked my opinion on one of the candidates running for city commission in Belle Glade. The Sun does not endorse or criticize candidates. We try to provide the information and personal quotes from those running so our readers can make their own enlightened decisions.

Governor Chiles wants Lake Okeechobee protected

This letter, addressed to Colonel Terrence Salt, District Engineer for the United States Army Corps of Engineers, from Gov. Chiles, was sent to us for re-print in The Sun.

Dear Colonel Salt:

I want to take this opportunity to request the assistance of the Corps of Engineers in protecting and enhancing the ecological integrity of Lake Okeechobee.

I am aware that the Corps has been working with the South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) and the state for the past two years in developing an improved regulation schedule for the lake. The state recently received the Corps proposed new regulation schedule for the lake and agreed that it is superior to the authorized 1978 schedule and should be adopted.

We believe that the ecological health of Lake Okeechobee deserves further attention and provides an excellent opportunity to continue the federal, and state efforts in protecting and restoring the entire Everglades Ecological System.

Specifically, I would like to request that the Corps, upon adoption of the new "Run 25" lake regulation schedule, undertake an additional analysis with an objective of developing a lake regulation schedule that meets project criteria while optimizing ecological benefits to the lake, the Everglades, littoral zone and downstream estuaries.

We believe that a more ecologically beneficial lake schedule can be developed based on the Corps preliminary analysis of "Run 25" AZE and the belief that requirements of the Everglades Forever Act adopted by the 1994 State Legislature and the results of the SFWMD's Lower East Coast Water Supply Study, when incorporated in the analysis will significantly affect the results.

I would appreciate the Corps coordinating with the SFWMD to develop a plan of study for a reevaluation of the lake schedule which can proceed concurrently with the district's water supply study and be technically completed in 1995, or as soon as possible.

This new schedule would then be subject to a thorough environmental impact analysis including quantification of the economic issues associated with the new schedule.

By copy of this letter I am asking the SFWMD to contact the Corps and give this matter its immediate and utmost attention.

We are very appreciative of the Corps work throughout Florida, particularly in restoring the Kissimmee River, restoring Everglades hydrology and revising the Lake Okeechobee schedule. Cooperation between the Corps, the state and each of the water management districts is excellent, the best ever.

While I realize that this request may come at a time when resources and staff are committed to other work, accommodation of the request could be of major benefit to the state.

Over the past several years so much of our energy has gone toward resolving issues in the Everglades. Now, I feel that there is an ever greater need to focus attention and effort on improving the environmental conditions of our great lake; it needs our help.

I look forward to hearing from you regarding this request and to a continuing excellent relationship.

Sincerely,
Lawton Chiles

Community invited to give input in "First Families Forum"

By Scot Kannel
Executive Director of Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens

How many times have each of us had the thought "If it was my decision, I would have done it differently?" Most of us do not have the power to change the big systems that we count on to help us raise our families.

In fact, it often seems that those "big systems" like the health department, the schools, HRS, Medicaid and other federal programs, and the dozens of not-for-profit health or human services related agencies, all make plans to deliver their services without a way to ask any of us what we want or need.

Too often the dollars that come to the Glades to help children and their families have strings attached.

For example, every major funder develops a strategic plan that they believe is the best use of limited resources. Too often the needs of the coastal communities are assumed to be the same needs as here in the Glades.

But what if we have special needs?

Is public transportation a bigger issue in the rural western county if your needed Medicaid specialist is on the coast? Is home health care a greater priority? Is the population different, with a greater diversity of languages and culture?

Simply put, can the needs of families in the Glades be assumed to be the same as in the coastal communities?

Nearly a year ago a group of individuals concerned about issues surrounding foster care raised these concerns at a sub-committee meeting of the Planned Approach to Community Health (PATCH).

From that foster care sub-committee came the idea for a public gathering to discuss the real issues affecting the real people raising children in the Glades. No assumptions, no generalizations.

Instead, after a morning of groups of people with similar concerns discussing the problems and possible solutions, these collected issues could be presented to our congressman, our state representative, our county commissioner, our school administrator, our HRS district administrator, our public health medical director, our mayor, and the officers of the major planning and funding sources of human services like Children's Services Council, United Way, and Health & Human Services Planning Association.

All of those mentioned above have agreed to come to the Palm Beach Community College - Glades Campus and participate in the First Families Forum.

This gathering of legislators, funders and strategic planners represent a unique opportunity for every person who has had that thought "If it was my decision, I would have done it differently" to tell the people who can change things exactly how you would want things changed.

This event, scheduled for Sept. 24, beginning at 8:30 a.m., is the single best opportunity to give the people who can change things the information they need to do it the way it will best serve the children and families of our communities.

If you are raising a family, Sept. 24 is your day.

Make a difference. Be there. For more information, call 996-9583.

Practice, practice, practice...Forty-one girls are trying out for this year's varsity and junior varsity volleyball team at Glades Day School, according to Coach Rita Schoenfeld. "This is one of the strongest squads we've had in a while," she said. Glades Day will play in the Volleyball Jamboree Aug. 26, at Pahokee High School.

Farm Credit Bank reports results for 6 months

The Farm Credit Bank of Columbia (FCBC) recently reported for itself and its affiliated associations combined a net income of $53.2 million for the first six months ended June 30, 1994, an increase of $3.7 million compared with the same period in 1993. The increase is primarily due to an increase in loan volume resulting from additional loans to five new member associations.

Combined loan volume at June 30 was $5.126 billion compared with $4.485 billion at December 1993, an increase of $641.5 million. The increase is mainly a result of loan volume of the four new associations re-affiliating with the bank on Jan. 1, 1994, and seasonal demand for production loans. The increase was partially offset by scheduled repayment of a participation loan with CoBank-the National Bank for Cooperatives that reduced volume by $94.4 million since year-end 1993.

Maxey D. Love Jr., chief executive officer, said "The bank's and associations' combined operating results for the first six months of 1994 are generally in line with business plan objectives, and our five new member associations have helped the bank increase its loan volume."

The FCBC, part of the Farm Credit System, a national network of member-owned lending institutions, is a financial intermediary, providing loan funds and banking services to 23 farmer-owned Agricultural Credit Associations (ACAs) in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio, and a Production Credit Association (PCA) serving Alabama, Mississippi and most of Louisiana. In addition to the associations, the bank serves three other financial institutions (OFIs).

The associations are member-owned financial cooperatives that serve 75,000 farmers, ranchers and growers of agricultural commodities; rural homeowners; aquatic producers and agri-business firms.

Chamber of commerce searching for youth's dad

When Iris Tanner of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce received her mail recently, she found that one of the letters contained a request that she was unable to follow through with.

According to Mrs. Tanner, she tries to answer all correspondences she receives at the chamber. But, try as she may, Mrs. Tanner is unable to grant a little boy from Jamaica the wish that he hopes to find his father.

The following is a letter that was written by the Jamaican tot. If you can help him in his venture, please do.

Dear dad,
Compliments of the season to you and your family.

Dad, why I write you this letter is because I wrote you a letter and I didn't receive an answer from you. I will like to know what happen, why you don't answer me back?

Dad, I am so sorry, I don't know what to do. Please, please, I am looking forward for an answer from you.

Please don't turn me down. I am longing to see what you look like.

I wrote you a letter four months ago and I don't get any reply from you.

I love you dad.
Daddy, are you feeling better or what? Please write me and let me know. Write me back.

Glades Central Raiders

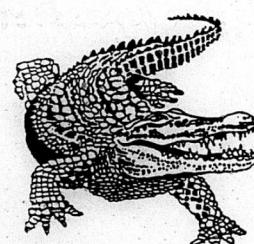

Each week, beginning September 1st, through mid-November, we will be publishing The Sun newspaper in two sections - dedicating the second section to local school sports.

Some of the merchants in our area have joined together with The Sun in sponsoring this promotion, so please let them know how much you appreciate their participation by patronizing their businesses whenever possible. In appreciation, the merchants will be giving away a really Unique Umbrella. To have a chance to win,
